REPORT ON TEMPERANCE.

Your committee on Temperance submit the following as a report: Temperance is not the word that should head your annual report on the evils of intoxicating drinks. Temperance implies permission to use moderately, the drink whose evil report is intended to condemn; but the word of God utterly forbids the use of intoxicants as a beverage. Intoxicating wine and strong drinks are both recommended as medicines, but positively condemned as beverage drinks. Solomon says, give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish and wine unto those that be of heavy hearts; give them as medicine to the weak, dejected sufferers, but never to the well as a drink. Also Paul wrote Timothy not to drink water, but use a little—just a little—wine for his infirmities. Here wine is prescribed, but strictly as a medicine, and not much then. The Bible recommends strong drink as medicine, but forbids one to look upon such as drinks. Solomon who prescribes wine for sickness says, look not upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth color in the cup, when it moveth itself aright. And the Priest were positively forbidden to use wine at all, when going into the Tabernacle, lest they should die. And God condemns the Israelites because they gave the Nazarites wine to drink. Also it is written, woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink and maketh him drunken. Here God pronounces a woe on him that gives another intoxicants; and besides all the bible fully shows, the disgracing effects of wine upon its subjects. It is a mocker; it bites like a serpent; it creates lust; it makes brutes of men. Such are some of the effects of strong drink as set forth in God's word. The fruit of vine, unfermented juice of the grape, is used in divinely appointed feasts but certainly not that which giveth its color in the cup, and moveth itself aright, which we are forbidden to even look upon. As to wine as a beverage, the word of God is not Temperance, but PROHIBITION, and we, to have God's word as our foundation, must strike out Temperance and insert Total Abstinence, at the beginning of our report. Christ turned water into wine at Cana, but certainly not that kind that moveth itself aright, which God had said look not upon; certainly not that kind which bites like a serpent; not that kind that makes drunk, for against such God has written woe, and He who knew no sin would not, could not, have made for and given to men, that upon which God has at least admonished men not to look. Letrew byayin Greek Ornos does not, so say scholars, necessarily mean more than the juice pressed from the grape; which will not intoxicate, but is a healthy, wholesome drink. Such must have been the wine made by Christ. Erethren, not temperance—privilege to use moderately; but look not, give not, are the mottos given us are intoxicants. Stand by them, uphold them for the glory of God.

REPORT ON SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

It has been truly said that the only way to get a Baptist to yield is to give him thus, sayeth the Lord, for his faith and practice. Now, if our Baptist people lived up to their duties and responsibilities they would attend every Sunday School with their children and worship God in the Sunday School. When the Sabbath comes they would say, come let us go to the house of God. There is as binding a command to Baptist not to forsake the the assembling of themselves together as there is for them to baptize—Heb. X 25. Paul in writing to the Baptist church at Corinth, took it for granted that every member would meet with the church every Sunday, for he wrote, upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God has prospered him, that there be no collections when I come. Keeping the Sabbath and reverencing the sanctuary are commands of God linked together—Lev. XIX 30 xvii, 2, 3. The Sabbath day was instituted not simply for us to cease from labor and rest, but more as a day for spiritual nurture and holy convocation. It cannot be gainsaid that the person who thus spends the Sabbath is better rested at the end of the Sabbath than the person who remains in slothful quietude. How our country Baptist profane the Sabbath, and turn it into a day of pleasure, by this custom of Sunday visiting, instead of going to the Sunday school. Satan knows that the word of God is the only weapon of attack that a christian has, and tries to persuade him or her, that the Sunday school is an invention of man and is thereby not binding on us, and, alas! he succeeds too well. God demands of us, yea, commands of us to use every facility for acquiring for ourselves and for teaching our children a knowledge of His word. It is as foolish to send an army out to fight without weapons with which to fight, as it is for christians to b ttle with satan, sin, self and error without the word of God in his head and heart. The jews were required to teach their children the word of God, not only in the family, but by the wayside, to give line upon line, and precept upon precept. Christian parents are required to bring up their children in the discipline and instruction of the Lord. Some grown up Baptist seem to think that because it is called a school, and has not been in use very long, that as they are too old to go to school, and as the Sunday School is of recent origin, they are not required by our Lord to go to Sunday School. What a mistake! Too much grown up or too old to study and learn God's word, that they will not use increased facilities for learning God's word, then for the same reason, they ought to object to Bibles being so cheap, and to the poor having Bibles, for until last 3 or 4 centuries only rich people could buy Bibles, and all the people learned was from the preacher; or handed down orally from parents to children. From the Gospel and Acts we learn that both the Jews and early Christians assembled every Sabbath to hear the Scriptures read. We ought to lift our voices in praise, and our hearts ought to be full of gratitude, for the great privilege of meeting together with our children every Sunday, there to learn our duties and responsibilities to our Lord, and to our fellow man, thereby attaining to a full grown man, to the measure of the stature of the fullness in Christ. We recommend that every church organize an evergreen Sunday School, not only for the reason that every member and their children are benefitted, but because the Master commands and requires it.

Respectfully submitted, J. B. MOODY.

try, in a war of four years, the South emerged from the contest conquered, and penniless. But that was not the worst of it, for honest industry, and common sense economy will always build up places wasted by war, and make them bloom again, but alas, how the moral waste remains a desert long after the war bugle has ceased to be heard in the land. War demoralizes all classes, and a long, bloody war is sure to be succeeded by a long, bloody reign of sin, during which, all the savage ferocities of the human heart breaks forth into the most fearful crimes. After the war was over christians sorrowed and wept over the wickedness, that in high and low places, covered the land like a wrathful cloud and threatened destruction to all the dearest interest known to man, and they could do little more than lift up their hearts in prayer to God who rules all, and hope for better days. It is a solemn thing, to see long lines of people marching on to death without any preparations for it, and ourselves powerless to arrest the mad journey. Our people gradually come together again, with little more wealth than a trembling faith that God would in His own good time, light up our pathway to a better life. In this dark hour God put into the hearts and heads of some dear Baptist brethren to originate what is called the Baptist State Mission Work in Mississippi, and although at first it yielded no fruit for a year or two, yet it has been gradually perfected until it has reached its present proportions, and developed a power for good, that is almost beyond computation. Sixteen years ago steps were taken to inaugurate this work, but one year rolled away and only one church in the State contributed anything, and that I think was ten dollars. The prospect was gloomy enough, for the convention was doing nothing, and knew not what to do. But blessed be God, there were some great hearts among us, and they went to work to vitalize our frozen energies, and put some life into the new plan. But with fear and trembling they put one Missionary in the field, Bro. H F Finley, I think; and feared to think where the money was to come from to pay him. But God led us on, and through many discouragements but more success, we have gone on until the thoroughfare behind us is crowded with rejoicing thousands, the fruits of this great work. What Baptist in the State is now doubtful about supporting this great work, or would be willing to suspend it for any plan know to us? I thought of giving to our brethren a summary of this work to the present time, but I had not the material at hand, and as many as four years work is not in this report, and I could not find them after I had determined on this plan of report. But it is full enough to arouse every Baptist and every christian in the State to open his heart and purse to a cause and work so blessed of God. Number of Missionaries employed in 1889, 69; days of service, 29,746; miles traveled, 312,593; sermons preached, 21,770; prayer meetings held, 6,725; visits to families for religious purposes, 42,000; baptized, 4,566; restored to fellowship, 257; churches organized, 65; Sunday schools organized, 281; teachers and children in Sunday schools, 3,077; Sunday school addresses, 2,315; pages of religious tracts distributed, 294,374; stations in 1879, 16; in 1881, 50; in 1882, 81; in 1888, 214; in 1889, 354. Now brethren just think of 69 devoted, pious, self-sacrificing men in the State of Mississippi going about every day, and preaching the unresearchable riches of Christ, holding prayer meetings, publicly and privately organizing and teaching Sunday schools, distributing thousands of religious tracts, visiting thousands of families to pray with and instruct them, occupying 354 stations, and visiting hundreds of other places as their work allow them, and then try to grasp the mighty work they are doing, and realize the wonderful influence they are exerting for good, an influence that will perhaps be widening when the sun goes out in darkness, and the moon turns to blood, and see if you do not rejoice that you have contributed to such a glorious work, and still feel your hands moving to your purses, your hearts swelling with joy, and your spirits impatient to begin a new campaign for Christ. My heart burns within me to write of the work in New Orleans, of that pure, noble, christian woman, Mrs. Nelson, and then to tell you who the men and women are, who are doing this great work in Miss. and La., but want of space forbids. If we are true to the cause of Christ, we have Mississippi for God and His pure word of life. But there is vast destitution yet in the Miss. valley, and along the coast, and flooding away back in the hills, and we must give and work for the Master. It is not too much to hope that in the next ten years we shall have 500 Baptist men and women at work in this great field. The millions of human beings now crowding into the great Mississippi valley, and soon to be brethren, must be infidel or christian, and as to which they shall be depends upon Baptists. Can we think with complacency of that great basin given up to infidelity to become like Sodom and Gomorrah, to corrupt and ruin the finest country on earth? If it is saved at all it must be by Baptist, for they alone recognize the Bible as their only rule of faith and practice, and can we tell but the State Mission Board fostered and sustained by the Baptist State Convention is the beginning of a power that is to work the lines of division between truth and falsehood in that mighty region all call around the banner of truth the forces that are to plant an

REPORT ON PUBLICATIONS.

Nearly three thousand years ago a very wise preacher spoke a truth to the effect that of making there is no end. Surely if he lived in our time he would have no reason to change his mind regarding the same matter. Along in connection with the above I suppose it may be truthfully said we are a reading people. As we are not able to purchase, and have not time to read even all good literature, we must of necessity choose from the great lot. I shall not presume to choose for this body nor even to suggest a course of reading, but beg leave simply to recommend that along with other things, we be sure to take, pay for and read our own State paper. There may be, understand I say may be, a better paper than the Southern Baptist Record in some respects, but for us of Mississippi, it stands head and shoulders above any, and if we are able to take but one, I unhesitatingly say, we ought, by all means take our own. After this one, for us of the Coldwater Association, I should suggest the Baptist and Reflector. In its consolidated form I regard it as one of the prettiest and best pa-

We also recommend as worthy of our patronage, the Kind Word Series, published at Atlanta, also the Baptist Basket, of Louisville.

REPORT ON FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Your committee on Foreign Missions would respectfully submit: That the world, as the field, is now open for the reception of the gospel, that the subject of Foreign Missions should be the leading one of the day. We have Missionaries in Southern, Central and Northern China, Africa, Italy, Brazil, Mexico, Japan to meet this exigency of the work, the Board has by command of the churches, through their representatives in the Southern Baptist Convention, very largely increased its Missionary force, this means more money. Well let it mean more money; it also means something else. It means the hastening of the appearing of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Then let our motto be hastening the appearance of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. The brethren is the Alpha and Omega of church Mission. The Board's expenditures has been increased 50 per cent. last year, the Board expended in round numbers $100,000, this year it must have been $150,000. A Karan convert who visited America, was urged on a certain occasion to address a congregation in respect to their duty to send out and support more Missioparies. After a moment of thoughtfulness, he asked with emotion, "has not Jesus Christ told them to do it?" Now brethren, we have recorded in Mathew 24th ch. 14th v. "and this gospel of the Kingdom shall be preached in all the world, for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come." Now that we may be helpers in the extension of this gosple, of the Kingdom, and thereby hasten the appearance of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Let us in the name of the Master address ourselves to the task before us, hastening the consumation, hour, when Christ's reign on earth begins. And full rivers of salvation flood this world of woe and sin.

Respectfully, JOHN RICHARDSON.

The special hour to hear the report on Mississippi College having arrived, the report was called for and read, as follows.

REPORT ON MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE.

If the Baptist of Mississippi had consumed an age in study and reflection as to the most certain and effective way to impress themselves and their faith upon the people of Mississippi, they could not have succeeded better with any plan, than to bring into existence a seat of learning where their children and the children of the State could be educated, and trained to regard truth as more valuable than mountains of gold. Under the teachings of this most potent influence, Mississippi has been won for the Baptist, and if the Baptist of the State will not only continue to support it, as in the past, but will, as God gives them ability, endow it, and put their strong arms under it, to bear it up and on to a high and matchless influence, it is perhaps not in the power of our most gifted minds to grasp its mighty future. Mississippi College, more than any other human instrumentality has moulded out the 30,000 Baptist in the State, and if strengthened and supported as it should be, will continue to pour forth a healthy moral stream to purify the State and send its healing power to the remotest bounds of the earth. Other denominations have marked our wisdom and success in this line, and are to-day exerting all their energies to build as we have done, and if possible, yet snatch the standard of victory from our grasp. Lord Cornwallis slept on his arms at Princeton, thinking his victory secure and easy, and England lost her colonies; and if we sleep now, we may find to our cost, that the enemy was awake, and building against us all the time of our sleeping. In 1850 the College came into our hands, and since that time it has passed through trials and vicissitudes that was thought it could not survive, and if God had not decreed its life it would have perished. But He put into the hearts of His people to sustain it, and we believe He is putting into the hearts of His people now to endow it, and put it on the highest plane of usefulness. [It is gratifying to every Baptist heart, that it has educated 2,500 young men, and that 300 of them have entered the ministry, and many of them are to-day, great leaders in Christ's army. We can put the College in a condition to more than treble these results, and we can do it in a short time. It does seem that the more we do the more God enables to do, and can any one tell where this great movement is to end? or say that there will not in the next ten years, be 500,000 Baptist
